Software for winning back nights and weekends

Beat the pressure with Workiva

Long hours can be a part of life when it's crunch time for updating budget books, producing annual comprehensive financial reports (ACFRs), and maintaining internal controls. Rather than using "hand me down" technology one more day, modern state and local government agencies are implementing the Workiva platform to simplify work and return to a 40-hour week.

Workiva provides a centralized workspace where teams can automate the most tedious parts of financial reporting, enterprise risk management (ERM), internal controls over reporting (ICOR), and audit management. With Workiva, teammates work together in a single cloud platform so everyone has the most up-to-date information. Connect data directly to reports, spreadsheets, and presentations.

Then link that data from a single source of truth across internal financial reports, budgets, and annual financial reports so that text and numbers are consistent, even as information changes.

Deliver accurate reports faster with the Workiva platform.

Workiva is a FedRAMP-authorized cloud service provider (CSP) at the moderate security impact level.

Increase accuracy, reduce risk

Ease frustration with a central repository of reporting information that makes it easier to trust, review, and verify data and narrative. Accommodate last-minute changes, and update related documents immediately with connected data, reducing the risk of inconsistencies or errors.

Demonstrate transparency

Build trust with your constituencies, and protect your agency's reputation. Leverage a full audit trail for tracking every change, from a clerk to controller. Be confident that data and reports delivered to regulators, citizen groups, and auditors have been vetted and verified.

Keep work moving, no matter what

Establish a consistent and repeatable process within the Workiva platform, independent of individuals or agencies. In the face of turnover or budget restrictions, reporting can be picked up and rolled forward with little to no training. Access the Workiva platform from anywhere with a secure online connection.

Elevate your agency

Save time by connecting financial information across budget books, ACFRs, and internal reports. Eliminate the manual aggregation of data from multiple spreadsheets, and free highly skilled staff to focus on work that requires their specialized expertise.
